FURTHER INFORMATION

Most of the data that will be held on computer will be “personal data”; eg names addresses, Date of Birth, and contact details. This basic but essential data is required to allow key Church personnel to carry out their roles effectively, for example the Rector, the Secretaries and the Treasurer. The Church has a legal responsibility to ensure that you, as a parishioner, give consent for the use of this data and that you are aware that it will be protected. In May 2018 the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into force which strengthened the previous Data Protection Act (1998) giving individuals more rights and protection in how their personal data is used.

(Please note that the official Church registers of such things as Births, Marriages Burials etc will continue to be used, as the law dictates and will continue to be kept securely as they have always been done)
